Practice Hints

19

A portion of the practice time should be spent each day in reviewing pieces previously learned. Play them in the time indicated avoiding any tendency to hurry the tempo (time). To gain poise and assurance, play as often as possible in the presence of others.

PUPIL'S NOTE

When purchasing an accordion, be guided by the recommendation of your music instructor.

It is his responsibility to determine the model and size of instrument best suited to your needs.

Because he is completely familiar with your requirements, it is important to consult him for the correct selection of an instrument.
